

Vocational Assessments for Jobseekers

Vocational Assessments are designed to assist jobseekers who are unsure of their career path, need to re-skill or are returning to the workforce, and who want to identify their best job options.

The Vocational Assessment is completed by a Vocational Assessor and usually lasts for about 1.5 hours. The Vocational Assessment measures a persons interests and skills using a range of testing tools. The Assessor will through each of these tools together with you..

These formal assessment tools allow us to objectively assess your vocational interests to work out which occupations would suit you. These job-matching tools also help you to think more clearly about the sort of work you would enjoy doing and enable you to learn about yourself in the process.

A Vocational Assessment measures:

- Abilities
- Career interest areas
- Skills
- Career related personality characteristics
- Specific occupations
- Personal and work values
